Poetry.

The Gospel of Mystery.

Good tidings every day,
God's messengers ride fast,
We do not hear one half they say,
There is such noise on the highway,
Where we must wait while they ride past.

Their banners blaze and shine
With Jesus Christ's dear name,
And story how by God's design
He saves us, in his love divine,
And lifts us from our sin and shame.

Their music fills the air,
Their songs sing all of heaven;
Their ringing trumpet peals declare
What crowns to souls who fight and dare,
And win, shall presently be given.

Their hands throw treasures round
Among the multitude.
No pause, no choice, no count, no bound,
No questioning how men are found,
If they be evil or be good.

But all the Banners bear
Some words we cannot read;
And mystic echoes in the air,
Which borrow from the songs no share,
In sweetness all the songs exceed.

And of the multitude,
No man but in his hand
Holds some great gift misunderstood,
Some treasure for whose use
His ignorance sees no demand.

These are the tokens lent,
By Immortality;
Birth-marks of our devine descent;
Sureties of ultimate intent,
God's Gospel of Eternity.

Good tidings every day,
The messengers ride fast;
Thanks be to God for all they say;
There is such noise on the highway,
Let us keep still while they ride past.

Selected Story.

The Major's Story.

Did I ever tell you of Charlie C., the gallant colonel of the——New York? No? Well, look over the portfolio on that table, and take a look at his phiz. "Handsome?" Yes, the ladies called him so. As for me, a man's features never affect me much if he has the ring of the true man in him, and Charlie had. He had been petted and flattered at home, but rather more than was good for him; but six months in the field soon took the nonsense out of him. At the time he received his promotion we had the wives of some of "our staff" officers with us at headquarters, and a treat it was, too; after an active campaign to go into winter quarters and hear a woman's voice and live like white men.

Charlie's regiment belonged to a division at some distance from us, and we often met him at the headquarters of Gen.——, who commanded the division. We were in the habit of getting into our saddles at night, and riding out to pass the evening with some of our friends in various camps about us. A ride of five or six miles, to reach our destination, and the risk of being attacked by the rebs never detered us from these social affairs. For many reasons Gen.——was a decided favorite, and if the truth must be told, his oyster suppers and agreeable wife did not decrease the attractions of his quarters.

His house, one of the finest mansion houses, was roomy enough to accomodate a large party, and its hospitality was often tested.

One evening, three or four of our staff accedted an invitation to "wake up the rats at Gen.——'s," and as our commanding officer was on the sick list, we were lucky enough to be chosen the escort of the youngest lady at headquaters. We say "lucky," for three ladies only belonged to our corps headquarters, while others taunted us with their wealth; but I must say, boys, our three were the pride of the old corps. We old bachelors and the married officers quarrelled over them continually. As for the young fellows they were exalted enough with prospect of an occasional dance or a horseback ride. Well, we all went over to the general's and found a large party assembled. My partner took a package from her orderly, and left me at the dressing-room door, looking flushed and happy with our race over the corduroys. How she did ride that night! a true horsewoman, in love with her horse. Every mud hole we went through, up went the little feet on the neck of the horse and her bridle between her teeth.

"What has her riding to do with the colonel?"

Keep quiet, beys: she had something to say to him, and you must let an old fellow tell his story his own way.

After a few moments waiting she immerged from the dressing room in neat evening dress, and we went down stairs together. The "stars" outshone the "birds" that night, and I should have been out in the cold, but for my solemn promise to be extremely attentive to "madam's wants."

How jolly it was! Seven women and forty men; and the poor things danced until exhausted for fear of slighting any one. We had a nice supper, with plenty of wine, and whiskey for those who wished it, and for once, boys, I was temperate. To save my life, I could not drink with those quiet eyes looking at me. Charlie C. was nearly at the foot of the long table, but more than once I saw my little lady glance down there. He was talking well, but rather excitedly, and every time he took up his glass her fingers moved nervously. I knew he was a favorite with every one, and I knew also, that no amount of attention could make her wife other than a devoted wife to the man who insisted on her spending the evening with us. I could not understand it.

When we left the table, three or four gathered about her to escort her up stairs, but she smiled to all, and said:

"Excuse me, I am engaged to Colonel for a game of euchre." He stood quite near her, and at once offered her his arm. I too had been a party to the euchre engagement, with the general's wife as partner, and I hastened to follow my little lady. We took our places at the little table, and others did the same at other tables near us. The rooms were crowded. General M. declared "he would defend us from witchcraft," and drew near. Three or four others followed his example, and our host among them who asked if any of the party would like something to drink stronger than coffee. Colonel C. looked up to reply.

"Yes, general; I will take some of that old rye you promised me yesterday," and in a twinkling the bottle and glases were at his side.

My little lady held her cards in her hand; but I saw they trembled. The servant poured out the liquor, and just as Colonel C. was raising it to his lips, she laid her cards upon the table, and leaned forward, addressing him in quiet, trembling tones, but firm for all that:

"Colonel, please excuse me. I cannot play with you if you drink that. You have already had too much, and Colonel C. is a gentleman."

I can't tell you boys, how the words rang through the room. It seemed as if every one heard them, and yet she spoke low. For one moment C. flushed, and then the man in him came out.

"You are right. Thank you! Sam, remove these glasses."

She was very kind to him through the game, but we all missed her lively repartee. During our ride home I complimented her on her courage.

"Don't, I beg of you," she replied. "It hurt me so to speak. I am a coward, believe me, and more cowardly because he has been one of our most cultivated guests; and now, he will shun me as a female temperance lecturer. But I thought of my brother, so like him, and just his age; and then I spoke."

The next morning we were all chatting in the general's quarters, when a servant entered with a box containing some handsome flowers and a note from Colonel C. My little lady read it, and passed it to her husband, who read it to us. It ran thus:

"Dear madam: Your courage and kindness have saved me. I was going too far, and needed a check. Thank you again and again. C. H. C."

I don't know how it happened, but our staff became noted everywhere as the most temperate in the army. And as for "women not bearing arms," Charlie told me in New York the other day, that the bayonet my little lady used that night had done him good all his life. A splendid fellow is Charlie—handsome and solid, two things not often associated. I saw his wife and babies in New York; and in Charlie's study there is a painting of a man being attacked by demons, when a delicate hand is laid on his arm and he is saved. Why not carry out the idea, I asked, and paint the pleading, anxious face?

"Sacrilege," said Charlie; "but the live angel and the real face shines upon us here sometimes. If you want to hear high praise from one woman's lips concerning another, ask my wife about her."

The major lighted a fresh cigar, and the boys of "ours" locked up the decanters for that night.

Miscellaneous.

The Bounty Law.

The following is the act approved March 3d, 1873, for the extension of time for filing claims for additional bounty under act of July 28, 1866:

"Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the time for filing claims for additional bounty, under the act of July 28, 1866, and which expired by limitation January 30 1873, be, and the same is hereby, revived and extended until the 30th day of January, 1874; and that all claims for such bounties filed in the proper department after the 30th day of January, 1873, and before the passage of this act, shall be deemed to have been filed in due time, and shall be considered and decided without filing."

This extention affects only those who are clearly entitled to additional bounty and who failed to make application for the same prior to January 30th, 1873.

Soldiers discharged from the service on account of varicose veins are not entitled to bounty under any act granting bounty to soldiers for reason of wounds or injuries received in the line of duty, varicose veins not being considered a wound injury within the meaning of the law.

A soldier discharged on account of injury to the head or spine, by lightning, is not entitled to bounty under March 3, 1865, and April 12, 1866, nor under any act granting bounty to soldiers discharged by reason of wounds or injuries received in the line of duty.

Nor would the loss of sight or hearing, resulting from disease, entitle the soldier to bounty, as for wounds or injuries received in the line of duty.

To entitle an officer to the three month's extra pay, allowed under act of Congress, March 3, 1865, it is an essential condition that he is in service, and actually mustered on or before March 3, 1865, and discharged on or subsequent to April, 9, 1865—date accepted as the close of the war. An officer commissioned prior to March 3, 1865, but not mustered until after that date, although mustered to date from time of commission, is not entitled to three month's extra pay. The heirs of soldiers are not entitled to this extra pay. It is a gratuity payable only to the officer himself.

In all cases where blanks and instructions for the presentation of claims for bounty, by claimants, are requested from the Second Auditor, Treas. Department, District of Columbia, the service of the soldier, the date and period of enlistment, the date and cause of discharge, how much bounty has been received, and what bounty is claimed; or, if the soldier is dead, the date and cause of death and the relationship of the nearest heirs should be stated. This will save both time and expense to the office and the parties interested. Blanks will not be sent to attoneys. They are intended for claimants only.

Bounty act July 4, 1864.—Soldiers who enlisted under act July 4th, 1864, (Although mustered out by reason of their service being no longer required,) are entitled only to the instalments of bounty that had become due at the date of discharge. Drafted men and substitutes are not entitled to any bounty whatever under this law. Bounty under this act was to be paid in three instalments, the first upon enlistment, the second upon the expiration of one-half the term of enlistment, the third and last at the expiration of the full term for which the soldier enlisted. At enlistment, a one year's man, under act July 4, 1864, would receive $33.33⅓; after six monsh's service, the second instalment, $33.33⅓; after twelve months, the remaining third. Two year's men, at enlistment, received $66.66⅔; after one year's service, $66.66⅔; at close of term, or two years, the remaining third. Three year's men, at enlistment, were entitled to $100; after eighteen months, second instalment, $100; at expiration of term, thirty-six months, the remaining third. Soldiers enlisting under this act are not entitled to additional bounty.

The heirs of a soldier who died by reason of delirium tremens are not entitled to bounty, the soldier's death having been occasioned by his own criminality.

Mr. Sumner's Divorce.

It has already been announced that Mr. Sumner has obtained a divorce from his young and dashing wife, on the ground of continued absence—five years under the Massachusetts laws. She was the widow of a millionaire Massachusetts congressman—Mr. Hooper—and only twenty-two. The Cincinnati Enquirer says:

We know not how it may be, but it has been said that a jealousy on the part of the Honorable Senator had considerable to do with this unfortunate proceeding. There, naturally, a disparity of years and of tastes and habits. This almost universally produces an unhappy marriage. But in this instance it was aggravated. Mr. Sumner was not only a bachelor of long matured habits, but he had formed other connections and associations peculiar to himself even aside from that fact. For instance, it was said that he always had his carriage at the door of any ball or party they mutually attended, at which he would say, "Madam, it is now 10 o'clock; it is time to go home, and our conveyance is below." She would reply, "I am happy to hear it. You are sleepy and tired. Go home and go to bed, but I am not yet ready. I will follow you by and by. So good night my dear." Then, as we have said, the Senator was said to be morbidly jealous of a certain gentleman connected with the Prussian Embassy, whom he had himself introduced to his wife, and extolled in the highest terms, and which gentleman afterward escorted her to many evening amusements, which her husband's habits forbade him to attend. One day the young attache received a very peremptory letteer from Berlin, ordering him to return home immediately, and recalling him from the Prussian Legation. He was thunderstruck by the intelligence; not conscious of any offense against his government, he could not conceive what it meant. He therefore wrote to an influential friend at home to make inquirers of Count Bismarck as to what was the real reason of this very extraordinary proceeding. In reply he was informed that the chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, who was then Senator Charles Sumner, had written a letter requesting his recall, and that the Count did not consider that he was authorized to refuse a request coming from such an influential source in the government to which he was accredited. Of course the young Prussian gentleman duly informed Mrs. Sumner of all this, and rumor hath it that lady was not at all pleased with the conduct of her husband in the matter. The German Secretary returned home, and for a time the cloud upon the marital relations of the Senator disappeared.

But bye and, bye as it was announced to the public, and, we think, by an agreement between the parties, Mrs. Sumner's health required that she should leave the American continent, and breathe for a time the air of Europe. This was accordingly done and the atmosphere has been so bracing and the scenery so pleasant—to say nothing of her companionship—that she has lingered there so long as to enable Mr. Sumner to obtain the divorce for willful absence, required by the statute. Mr. Sumner will resume his old bachelor relations, and this late wife—a young, handsome and wealthy widow—will be a prize to be contended for by gentlemen of position who are in the matrimonial market.

Great Saving in cost of Steam Power.

Sir: I find by numerous experimental trials that the work done by the best steam engines, with a pound of coal, can be doubled, and half the fuel now burned in producing steam power saved, by using the immense amount of latent heat that escapes in exhaust steam to produce power. The exhaust from any style of engine can be taken in a pipe to an adjoining building if desired; and there used to heat a boiler and drive a second engine, which, will do as much work as is done by the first, from which the exhaust is taken, without diminishing the work of the first engine, or requiring any adpitional fuel to run it—thus using the heat twice and producing two results instead of one.

The Haskins machine Company of Fitchburg, Mass., have been running their works on this plan for the past year. They use the exhaust from an engine that drives the works of a neighbor, to heat their boiler and drive their engine and use no fuel whatever. Others have been pursuing a similar course for a shorter time. Every establishment using 100 horse power and allowing the exhaust to escaed into the atmosphere, is waisting from $3,000 to $5,000 per annum.

The process by which these results are obtained are very simple and free from danger. The second boiler is filled mainly with the bisulphide of carbon instead of water. This fluid boils at a lower temperature than water, and the heat of exhaust steam boils it and converts it into vapor, giving a pressure of 60 pounds to the inch. This vapor works an engine the same as steam, and after it is used in the engine it is condenced by cooling, usually with an atmospheric condenser and pumped into the boiler again and used continuously without loss except by leakage, which is very smalll. I will cheerfully furnish a more detailed description of this process to those who desire it and advise me of the fact. Yours, JOEL A. ELLIS.—In The Tribune.

Springfield Vt., May 26, 1873.

Susan Aberhart, the woman who was executed at Preston, Georgia, lately, while in prison whiled away the solitary hours by making friends of the rats of her cell. A man that had access to her cell. A man called to see her a few days before her execution, and after some conversation told her that he had understoood that she had some pet rats. She tapped on the floor, when out of their holes came the rats, until no less than fourteen of them had answered the call. They climbed upon her lap, and up her shoulders, and crawled about over head, suffering her to caress and handle them as she pleased, and not one of them manifested the smallest sympton of alarm. This story is told by the Augusta Constitutionalist.

Kate Stanton, in her lecture on "The Loves of Great Men," asserts that planets revolve around the sun by the influence of love, like a child revolvs about its parent. When the writer was a boy he used to revolve around his parents a good deal, and may have been incited thereto by love, but to an unprejudist observer it looked powerfully like a trunk strap.—Danbury News.

High Prices.

It has long been evident that many who desired to purchase a Lock-Stitch Sewing Machine for domestic use, or often, perhaps, as an aid toward procuring a livelihood, were deterred from doing so by high price of a Lock-Stich Machine, with the various appliances necessary, costing more than many felt willing to pay.

Various cheap machines were put in the market, making curious and fancy stitches; but in the end on account of repairs constantly needed, time lost when they would not work, and garments spoiled when they would work, they proved more expensive than the Lock-Stich Machines; and the seams that were warranted to take out easily—if you knew how—had a way of taking themselves out at a time and in a manner never anticipated by the wearer.

In view of these facts, ELIAS HOWE, the original inventor of Sewing Machines, resolved to give the world a Lock-Stitch Family Sewing Machine that should combine all the best points of his precious machines, with such improvements as his long experience and ripe judgment should suggest; in a word, the best possible machine, to be sold at the minimum of profit, relying upon the large sales sure to follow the introduction of a strictly first class machine at a moderate price.

The Howe Machine can be obtained of F. L. KURTZ, Hertford and Elizabeth City at New York prices and on easy terms. The public will please bear in mind that some other Machines are sold at fifteen dollars advance over New York prices. See advertisement.

A story to smile at is this which comes from Indianapolis: There is an actor there of such beautiful proportions that he is known as the Appollo Belvidere. Exhibiting his exquisite limbs in the streets the other day, he was attacked by a terrier upon whose tail he had stepped, and bitten in the calf. He walked on easily, and did not know that he was nipped until somebody told him. Did blood flow from the wound? Not a drop! What did flow? Sawdust! A thin stream of it from the mangled rotunlity of the leg! The fact was stated as a bit of interesting local newspaper, and Appollo undertook to chastise the editor. But what can an Appollo with sawdust calves do in a rough and tumble fight? He was ignominiously kicked out of the sanctum. Sic semper to all who desecrate it by violence, whether their calves be of sawdust or of genuine muscle!

The Waterbury American says: A story is circulating, which tells how a fair young lady went to a drug store and told the man to fix her up one dose of castor oil, and to mix it up with something to take the taste away. The man told her to wait. In a few moments he asked her if she felt like taking a glass of soda water. She accepted the invitation and drank the beverage. Presently she asked the roller of pills why he didn't give her the castor-oil. The man smiled a triumphant smile, and said: "Madame, you have taken it. I mixed a fearful dose with that sodawater!" She turned pale; she sank into a chair; she gasped: "Immortal Jove! I wanted it for my mother!"

If the laborer be worthy of his hire, may he not properly sue for it? A church in Iowa neglected to pay its pastors salary. Not relishing this, he brought his action and got a judgment. This was thought to be a proceeding demanding a council of investigation, and that tribunal arrived at four findings, viz: That the church did wrong in failing to pay the pastor his salary; that the pastor did wrong in suing the church; that the church should apologize to the pastor; and that the pastor should apologize to the church. There could'nt be anything fairer and squarer than this; and if brotherly love isn't restored to that church it must be past praying for.

A correspondent lately wrote to the San Francisco Chronicle to know where Cain obtained his wife, and is thus severely but properly reproved: "Upon any subject of a public nature we never refuse to throw the desired light. But this is altogether a different thing. It is a family matter with which we do not care to meddle. Cain died some time before many of us were born, and such idle curiosity regarding the family affairs of a deceased person we regard as reprehensible, and calculated to violate the sanctities of domestic life."

When the brave soldier, now President of France, was finally conquered at Sedan by the victorious Prussians, in spite of his gallant resistance and stubborn efforts to save his army, he rode boldly to the front exclaiming: "Let me show these kings and princes who screen themselves behind their legions, that a marshal of France knows how to fight, and, when beaten, how to die!"

A young lady at an evening party some time ago found it apropos to use the expression, "Jordan is a hard road to travel," but, thinking that to be too vulgar, substituted the following: "Perambulating progression in pedestrian excursion, along the far famed thoroughfare of fortune cast up by the banks of the sparkling river of Palestine is indeed, attended with a heterogenous conglomeration of unforseen difficulties."

Here is an authentic instance of true and faithful love: A Pittsfield, Mass., school girl, in order to convince a jealous boy that she liked him better than some other urchin, exclaimed: "Of course I like you better than I do Bill, for don't I miss words in my spelling lesson on purpose so as to be down at the foot of the class where you are?"

A society for the suppression of slang has been formed among the pupils of the girl's high-school of San Francisco. Said a reporter to one of its members: "Your object is a praiseworthy one. Do you think you will succeed in eradicating conversational slang?" Said she, "You bet."

Miss Susan B. Anthony expressed her willingness to stand "face to face with Satan." Nobody doubts that she would be willing, but how about Satan? He ought to be consulted in the matter.

THE RAIL ROAD QUESTION.

This country needs a railroad. Every intelligent man feels this and admits it. We have agitated the subject for years; have called the attention not only of our own people to this great want but of capitalists to the feasibility and ultimate profit of such an enterprize through this country. At last the ground is looked over, charter privileges are obtained and a survey began. A legitimate company, composed of men who mean business, offer to build us a railroad if we encourage them to do so. Now is the time for us to act. They come to us saying; "You profess to want a railroad and you claim that if built it will pay. Show your sincerity by your actions. If you will take stock in the road sufficient to grade and cross tie it, we will build and equip it for you." This is fair and business like.

The Company that has taken these preliminary steps and makes us this offer is the "Atlantic Coast Railway Company." They come to us honorably and fairly. Their representations appear to be well founded. They make no pledges to do impossible things. Unlike some other parties who have been among us they do not attempt to deceive our people with promises of building us a railroad whether we make local subscriptions or not. Human experience dosn't demonstrate that business men are quite so generous, and the history of all railroads are that they must have help of some kind, either Government subsidies or local aid along their line.

Every county through which the railroad, if built, passes will be largely benefitted. Not only will the people have the convenience and comfort of quick and easy travel and the advantages of speedy transportation to the great markets, but it will bring more people into each county, increase the population, and thus rapidly develope all the material resources. And as this goes on the common prosperity is continually increased. This being so, each county can well afford to vote a liberal subscription to railroad stock, so guarding it as to have the bonds issued at certain stages of the work.

We believe this ought to be done. It is a duty we owe to ourselves as well as to those who are to come after us. Here we have a country endowed with wonderful possibilities—a heritage unsurpassed for its wealth producing powers. But they are undeveloped, and without the aid of the two mighty agents of our progressive civilization—the railroad and the iron horse—they will remain so. These agencies are now within our reach. Will not our children justly reproach us if we do not use them?

THE DANGER OF IRREGULAR HABITS.

There seems to be in the animal economy a sort of compensating power, which enables the constitution to withstand attacks regularly made. It is as if the body fortified itself to meet expected assaults at regular intervals. If regular intervals are not observed, the recuperative powers seem to be like a sleeping garrison taken by suprise, and unable to make effective resistance. A man may go to sleep at very late hours, or he may reverse the order of nature entirely, and sleep by day instead of by night, and, if he does this with extreme regularity, the effects may not, for a long time, prove serious. But, if he sleeps sometimes at night, and sometimes by day, or at any hour, without regard to regularity, his health will soon be undermined.

It is a well settled fact, that indigestion is frequently caused by eating at unwonted hours, although the system may crave food from long fasting. A gentleman remarked to us the other day, that to eat anything substantial at mid-day, was certain to give him a fit of indigestion. Physicians in the treatment of dyspeptics, recognize this fact. They not only prescribe the nature of diet, but insist on its being taken with regularity. The hand of the laborer becomes callous by regular work, while that of the man unaccustomed to labor, would soon be blistered. Something analagous to this appears to exist throughout the entire animal economy. The constitution makes a successful effort to vitilize and sustain any organ, whose functions are regularily exercised, even if the exercise be in itself unnatural and hurtful.

A certain class of diseases, undoubtedly traceable, at least in a great degree, to irregular habits, have much increased among our city population. The comparative immunity from these diseases, enjoyed by people living in rural districts, is sufficient proof that they have their origin in the circumstances which surround city life. They are not of that class of diseases, which originate in impure air, miasmata, or infections. Among them, may be enumerated softening of the brain, Bright's disease of the kidneys, and affections of the heart. Excessive mental labor adds to the mischief, but we believe, that as a cause, it is much overated. The truth is, that the habits of most city people are such as unfit them to endure mental strain. Our city life is one round of excitement. The mind works easily and well, only when the emotional nature is placid. It is a mistake to suppose that physical fatigue is mental rest. Let a man be thoroughly fatigued in body, and he is little prepared to do brain work. Physiologists have shown that the exercise of the mental powers increase the exertions of the body as effectually as muscular labor. If the demand be greater than the supply, the balance in bank of vitality must soon be overdrawn.

THE BIBLE CAUSE IN NORTH CAROLINA.

We had a call a few days since, from the Rev. P. A. STROBEL, District Superintendent of the American Bible Society for North Carolina. He was on his annual visit to our city and delivered an address in the M. E. Church on last Wednesday evening. During the year ending March 31st 1873, Mr. STROBEL had canvassed eighty seven counties and made provision to supply them in whole or in part with the Holy Scriptures. Many of the Auxiliary Societies had to be revived; about twenty-five new ones were organized, besides a number of Branch Societies amongst the Freedmen.

During the year ending March 31st, 1873, 35,589 volumes of the Scriptures were brought to this State in connection with the Bible work. Of this number 10,000 volumes were donated by the American Bible Society for gratuitous distribution amongst the needy of both races. The receipts for the year were over $5,000, being an increase of seventy-five per cent on those of the previous year.

The Bible work, is progressing favorably throughout the State, although in some places much apathy exists, yet, on the whole there is an increased activity and liberality amongst the friends of the cause. The Freedmen especially manifest much interest in the Bible cause and are very grateful for the efforts which have been made to put the Scriptures in their homes and their Sabbath Schools. Mr. STROBEL speaks encouragingly, the prospects of the Bible cause and feels confident, that by proper efforts on the part of christians generally, all the destitution in the State could soon be supplied.

The famous "Modoc War" is over at last. Captain JACK has been caught. Incredible as the news seems, it is true. Every dog has his day, and Captain JACK enjoyed his sunshine before General DAVIS was sent to fight him. When this experienced soldier reached the lava beds, he determined to spare the lives of white officers and fight Indians with Indians. The policy of having dog eat dog has proved very wholesome. As soon as the Modocs saw their chief's prestige was wavering, they began to desert his standard. First women, then warriors, and last his family tripped away from the wily savage. Then the men who had helped him slay and scalp, turned upon their chief and hunted him down. Brought to bay he surrendered.

The Springfield Republican speaks of the embarrassments under which our late Minister to Russia labored from his ignorance of both the Russian and the French languages, and adds:

Gov. Jewell, Mr. Orr's successor, will have at his command the linguistic accomplishments of his wife and daughters, and, in addition, as he informs his friends with his usual bluff heartedness, has formed the determination to talk French before he gets to St. Petersburg, "or bust." His pluck reminds us of the assiduity with which John Adams, on the occasion of his first mission to Paris, studied and jabbered in the day time and visited the theatre in the evening, till, in six weeks, he could conduct a conversation with Count de Vergennes.

We deprecate the attacks made in certain quarters on Ex-Senator POOL. It is unfair and ungenerous. His eminent service to the great party of Progress entitle him to courteous treatment and respectful consideration from all who claim to be Republicans. Ever since we have known him we have found him always vindicating the grand principles of the Republican Party and defending the interests of this commonwealth. His ability is unquestioned, and his indomitable energy is everywhere known. Neither envy, or jealousy, or malice can write him down.

New Books, Periodicals, &c.

A TREATISE ON PHYSIOLOGY AND HYGIENE; for Schools, Families, and Colleges. By J. C. Dalton, M. D., Professor of Physiology in the College of Physicians and Surgeons, New York. With Illustrations. 12mo, Cloth or Half Leather, $1 50. Harper & Brothers.

This is a handsome duodecimo book of 400 pages, amply illustrated with wood cuts adapted to exhibit, in a concise and distinct manner, all the anatomical points requisite for a clear understanding of the subject. It is intended as a means of instruction in Physiology and Hygiene for pupils and general readers who have no previous acquaintance with medical subjects. With this view, all the important facts in physological science are presented in the simplest form and in their natural connection with each other; so that both puil and teacher are enabled to master the subject without the laborious study of unnecessary technicalities.

The book is divided into four sections, corresponding to the four natural divisions or departments of Physiological Science, beginning with the description of the simpler functions of the body, and ending with the more complicated.

Section I. embraces the study of the Mechanical functions, viz., the structre and uses of the bones, the ligaments, the muscles, and the tendons; the mechanism of the different movements of the body, as in standing, walking, running, leaping, etc.; the usefulness of muscular exercise, and the influence of both exercise and repose in the preservation of the health.

Section II. is devoted to the study of the functions of Nutrition, viz., the ingredients and preparation of the food, digestion, absorption, respiration, the circulation of the blood, animal heat, the formation and uses of the secretions, and the mode in which all these functions are maintained in a healthy condition.

Section III. comprises the whole subject of the Nervous System, with the form and action of its different parts, the connection of the nerves with the other organs of the body, and the physiology of the special senses of sight, hearing, taste, and smell.

Section IV. describes the Development of the pody in its various changes during the progress of infancy, childhood, and youth, until it arrives at the period of maturity.

At the end of each chapter there is a series of Question, intended to assist the teacher in the examination of pupils on the subjects contained in the chapter. These questions will enable the teacher to distinguish at a glance the important points to be brought out in the examination, and the natural order in which they follow each other.

The book is provided with an ample Index, and also with a Gloossary, in which the definitions of all the anatomical and physiological terms embloyed are collected and arranged in alphabetical order.

WENTWORTH'S ARITHMETICAL PROBLEMS.—Arithmetical Problems, arranged for Drill and Review in Primary, Grammar, and High Schools. By E. Wentworth, Principal of North School, Portland, Maine. 12mo, Cloht, 60 cents. New York; Harper & Brothers.

This work is offered to the public, not as a rival to any other text-book, but as one designed to be used with, and supplementary to any arithmetic in use.

Experience shows that much time is lost by inaccuracy in computation, and that many pupils who can perform satisfactorily, examples arranged under certain rules, fail to perform original and miscellaneous examples, given by the teacher, even though more simple and involving the same processes; because before one principle with its applications is understood, another is thrust upon them.

The author endeavored to obviate these difficulties by arranging the work in such order as to test the ability of the pupils upon any given topic, and to furnish a thorough drill. Therefore the distinguishing feature of this work is, that each subject is first treated separately, with at least twenty-five examples, without answers, rules, tables, or suggestions; then a large number and variety of Promiscuous Examples are given, involving all the preceding rules, and so arranged as to require a practical knowledge of them. The book is divided into four chapters.

The First Chapter is confined to operations in the Fundamental Rules, United States Money, and Compound Numbers; and is designed for Primary and the lower grades of Grammar Schools.

Rhode Island still keeps up her discrimination against foreign-born citizens in the matter of exercising the right of suffrage, and does not permit them to vote unless they posess a certain amount of property in the State. A naturalized citizen of North Providence, whose property is in Massachutetts, proposes to test the constitutionality of the property qualification. It is a good thing to do. Why should Rhode Island be more choice in her voters than the rest of us?

RECENT STORM—CROPS BACKWARD—PROPOSED NEW LINE OF STEAMERS TO BALTIMORE—THE HEALTH OF THE PEOPLE.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

We had quite a severe thunder storm on Friday night, 30th of May. The rain fell in torrents and accompanied with heavy thunder, lightning and wind blowing down several trees and fences in our town. Wednesday preceeding a hail storm passed over the lower part of Martin county four miles above, cutting the crops to pieces considerably. The heavy rain and wind did our farmers some injury on irregular and sandy lands, washing it out in many places covering it up in sand at other points. The farmers are rather complaining as a general thing, the variable season has somewhat retarded the growth both of corn and cotton, and fertilizers up to now have not proved to be of much advantage, though liberally used, labor scarce, and crops rather grassy. At present the season is more favorable, dry and rather cold, but with energy and good culture the crops will yet prove to be an average one, seasons continuing favorable.

It speaks well for the energy and enterprize of our citizens on the Roanoke, that they intend establishing a line of steamers from Williamston, Jamesville and Plymouth to Baltimore to export our commodities and return with freight as above mentioned. Let the good work go on, and extend the advantage to our neighbors above to the highest point of navigation. Call county meetings, organize, and place the stock in reach of every class of our citizens, so as to make them interested. It will ensure success. It is clear to me that we could take no steps to advance our material interest more than a united effort in this direction. Eastern Carolina has had her life blood sucked out long enough, and we are pleased to see she is waking from her listless slumbers, and exercising a fair degree of foresight, energy, and discretion, towards her own advancement. All that is necessary is a united effort on the part of her citizens. We have the soil, climate, water facilities, energy, and wealth, properly, exercised, to carry it into effect successfully. Let every one put his shoulder to the wheel and we have nothing to fear. Those whose misconception lead them to suppose they can longer prey upon our credulity, to impovish us and grow opulent out of our misfortune as heretofore will find themselves ere long mistaken. We are aware of our rights, interests and resources, and intend in the future to foster them, regardless of whose interest out side of us, it may conflict with.

Our county is very healthy, all laughing and growing fat, save the few who live upon the misfortunes of their friends and neighbors, (the doctors.) They complain that it is distressingly healthy. So may it continue!

Bible Meeting in Camden.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

A meeting in the interest of the Bible cause was held in the Baptist church at Sawyers creek, Camden county, on Sunday, June 8th, at 4 o'clock. The meeting was addressed by Rev. P. A Strobel, District Superintendent of the American Bible Society for North Carolina. The Camden county Bible Society is one of the oldest in the State, having been organized in 1818. Whilst in active operation, it had sent to the American Bible Society in the way of donations $225, and from the sales of books $690. It has however done nothing since the war, hence, it was necessary to reorganize it. The following officers were chosen:

President, T. B. Bushell, Corresponding Secretary, W. W. Morrisett, Treasurer and Depository J. T. Etheridge, Ex Com. G. D. Pritchard, H. W Scott and C. L. Grandy.

The Ex. Com. gave an order for a supply of books for the Depository, and steps will be taken to supply all the destitute in the county.

The first President of the Camden County Bible Society was Mr. Enoch Sawyer, who served from 1818 to 1825. Mr. Sawyer was at that time Collector of Customs at Elizabeth City. During his term of service the venerable Bishop Asbury visited the counties around Albemarle Sound. Many of the children born at that time were named for the Bishop. Hearing this, he sent to the Bible House at New York and ordered a box of Bibles, to the care of Mr. Sawyer, with instructions that a Bible should be given to each child bearing his name.

Bible Meeting in Currituck County.

To the Editor of the North Carolinian:

The Rev. P. A. Strobel held a Bible Meeting at the Providence Baptist Church, on Sunday, June 8th, at 11 A. M. At the close of Mr. Stobel's address a Bible Society was organized and the following officers chosen:

Joseph Morgan, President; A. C. Dey, Cor. Secretary; H. E. Baxter, Treasurer and Depositary; Executive Committee: Dr. Joseph J. Baxter, W. S. Mercer and George Snowden.

This is the first Bible Society ever organized in Currituck County. The meeting left a very favorable impression. The Ex. Com. gave the District Superintendent an order for $65 worth of books and steps are to be taken to supply all the destitute families in the County.

SENEX.

A Murder of a Father by his Son.

On the 3d, inst., Mansfield Trucy Walworth, a noted author, was shot dead by his son, a young man 19 years of age. Domestic trouble was the cause. Because of cruel treatment the mother of the young man had been divorced from the father. Since her separation from him, Walworth has annoyed her in various ways, principally by writing abusive letters to her, and occasionally threatening her life. He has also reflected upon her character, it is said, in an indirect way, in one of his works of fiction. Some of the letters of Mr. Walworth came into the possession of his son Frank H., aged 19 years, a law student, living with his mother. He endeavored to induce his father to cease persecuting his mother, and on one occasion threatened to shoot him unless he desisted. Recently the father threatened to shoot his wife and son. On Monday Frank left Saratoga and went to New York for the purpose of seeing his father and coming to some understanding relative to the future conduct of the latter toward Mrs. Walworth. He called at the residence of his father, but not finding him in left a note, asking him to call at the Sturtevant House. Mr. Walworth called there on Tuesday, and was shown to his son's room. A heated discussion took place. The son claims that his father made a threatening movement, as if to draw a weapon. Believing that he was about to carry out his threat of killing him, Frank drew a revolver and fired four shots at his father, all taking effect, and causing almost instant death. The young man went down to the office of the hotel, informed the clerk of what he had done inquired the way to the Thirtieth-st. Police Station, and proceeding there gave himself into custody. He claims to have acted in self-defense.

Robert N. Dudly is under arrest in Boston, charged with receiving and disposing of drafts and other valuables stolen from the mails. His alleged accomplice was R. M. Wales, a route postal clerk between Toledo and Buffalo, who was arrested about a year ago. Dudly is said to have made over $50,000 by his operations. He had recently purchased a handsomd cottage at Mattapan, near Boston, under the name of E. H. Purcell, fitted it up with much luxury. The establishment was taken possession of on Saturday by Government officers, and its occupant committed to jail.

Vice-President Wilson is suffering from over work, which has affected his eyes. During the late campaign Mr. Wilson made over 130 speeches and traveled nearly 20,000 miles. He had attended to his Congressional labors during the past Winter, and at the same time was preparing the second volume of his historical work for publication this Autumn. His physician now orders a cessasion of all work, including correspondence.

A young woman at Fall River attempted to cowhide a young man the other day, and came out second best.

NOTICE TO DEALERS, BUSINESS MEN AND OTHERS.

The 26th Section of "An Act to provide for the Collection of Taxes by the State and the several Counties of the State on Property, Polls and Income, together with an Act to raise Revenue" ratified the 3rd day of March, 1873, demands that:

Every person required in this Act to pay a tax on receipts or sales shall list on oath to the Register of Deeds, on the first days of January, April, July and October of each year, the amount of receipts or sales for the preceeding quarter, and the Register of Deeds shall keep a record of the same in a book kept for that purpose. The Register of Deeds shall, within ten days after the lists are given in, furnish the Sheriff with a copy of said lists and the Sheriff shall immediately proceed to collect the taxes imposed upon the copy of lists furnished him. Any person failing to list his receipts or sales as required in this Section shall be subject to double tax, to be charged against him by the Register of Deeds, and collected by the Sheriff. The Register of Deeds shall have the same power to compel such persons to submit their books for inspection as is conferred upon him in Section Twelve of this Act in respect to merchants, etc., and the same penalties prescribed in said Section Twelve of this Act are hereby imposed for refusal on the part of any person referred to in this Section to submit his books when demanded.

This being the law, the Board of Commissioners of Pasquotank County hereby give notice that it will be enforced.

THAT sparkling and delicious drink, Soda Water is now in operation at Jas. N. Butt's City "Drug Store." Who will doubt that it is a palatable drink? Who says it is not a splendid drink? Who says it is not healthful? Who says it is not better than whiskey? Answer. No one says it will do you harm, but all says "it is splended, give me some more, drinks again and says it certainly is nice, give me a dollars worth of tickets. Who says it ish so nish; it ish better ash Larger. It is one of our German friends who knows what a good thing is.

DRUGS! DRUGS!! I think it hardly necessary to say I have a very large stock of goods pertaining to this branch of my business, as most of my patrons know. Since I devoted myself to the Drug Business as a speciality that I have been gradually improving and enlarging my Stock. And that I have spared no pains to make it a first class Drug Store and we think all who will examine the stock will say it is a first class Drug Store.

TO NORTHERN VISITORS.

Elizabeth City is 50 miles South East of Norfolk, Va. Parties coming here from the North should take passage on the Bay line Steamers which leave Baltimore at 4 P. M. every evening, and arrive at Portsmouth the next morning in time to connect with the Elizabeth City Steamers daily.

Local and Personal.

"Who sent the first postal card?" will puzzle future generations as deeply as the conundrum about BILLY PATTERSON.

A loafer who we never knew to be usefully employed remarked to a comrade. "If time is money I have squandered a big pile."

The Board of County Examiners of Currituck inform us that a few well qualified Colored Teachers can find employment in that county.

We learn that His Honor Judge BROOKS has been quite ill at Raleigh, obliging him to adjourn the Circuit Court for several days. The latest report is that he is very much better.

FRANK M. COOK, our Watch Maker and Jeweler, has moved into his new building. He has had it specially fitted up for his business and it is the handsomest this side of Baltimore.

It should not be forgotten that the School law requires that on the fourth Saturday of this month, being the 28th, inst., an election shall be held in the several school districts for the election of District Trustees.

There are some men in this world so philosophical that when misfortune occurs to them thay go right off and indulge in a "smile" about it. Some people smile under the most depressing circumstances.

We are frequently asked the question whether there will be a Fair held this season by the "Albemarle Agricultural Society?" We answer yes. The first Fair will be held in the early part of October. Let everybody get ready for it.

Capt. W. A. HARNEY informs us that he has just returned from a visit to Nags Head, and he gives a glowing account of the prospects there. He says the New Hotel is nearly finished, that a spleadid pier is being built and that no effort is spared to so arrange everything that guests and visitors may enjoy themselves this season as they did in the unforgotten days of "auld lang sine."

BURWELL M. BAXTER, late a citizen of Currituck, but more recently a resident of Berkly, Va., died on the 8th, inst., aged 52 years. He was well known and at one time represented his county in our State Legislature. His disease was consumption. His remains were taken to Currituck on Monday and interred by the Masonic fraternity, of which order he was a prominent member.

We were slightly amused the other day—we couldn't help it. It was during the time of a shower and a gentleman whose name we omit was caught in it. He sought shelter under a tree, but finding his roof rather leaky started on his way again. All at once his hat blew off, and he had a chase for it through the mud and rain. We did not hear the exact words he used to express his disgust in this last operation, but we have no doubt that they were mild!

There is no agency calculated to develope a country so surely and so rapidly as railroads. And we know of no country anywhere so specialy adapted as ours to the peculiar developement railroads always accomplish. They bring population to settle on and cultivate the unimproved lands; they give quick transportation to market; they open the way for the building up of towns and villages; they stimulate all the industries, and, following them, manufactories rapidly spring up. They set in motion the machinery that never fail to utilize all the products and material through which they pass. Let the voice of every man, then, be for a railroad and for the aid necessary to make it a sure thing.

One of our cotemporaries objects to receiving communications concluding in the following orthographical style: "You will please make every corecsion nessessery." It depends upon the character of the communication so far as we are concerned. If the object of the writer is merely to see himself in print, we never find time to make "corecsion;" but if the communication contains valuable information, or matters of local inters, no matter how wild the deviation from the standard of WEBSTER or WORCESTER we are glad to make such corrections in the spelling as are "nessessary." Still we would not discourage those who prefer to spell in the usual way.

The banking capital of the "Manufacturing Loan and Trust Company" at this place has been increased—more than doubled, and its management reorganized. At a meeting of the stockholders held on the 4th, inst., the following gentlemen were elected directors: THORNTON CONROW, of Philadelphia; D. G. BUSH, of Bellfonte, Pa.; Dr. PALEMON JOHN, COL. WM. F. MARTIN, D. C. LIPPINCOTT and C. W. HOLLOWELL of Elizabeth City. THORNTON CONROW was elected President, R. F. OVERMAN Cashier and D. C. LIPPINCOTT, feller. The capital will be still further increased in a short time. It is the intention of the Bank to be able, as far as possible, to meet the real business wants of this section.

The Atlantic Coast Railway Company have opened an office on Main Street. Their Engineers completed their trial line survey from Norfolk to Elizabeth City on Saturday. They are now on the line to Hertford and Edenton. They are putting the work through as energetically as possible. They will be ready to permanently locate and begin to grade the road as soon as the required local subscriptions are secured.

We call the attention of Teachers and the friends of Education generally to the announcement of the "Normal Institute" at Belvidere We know something about the advantages of these schools for Teachers. We have long felt their need here, and it is gratifying news to us to learn that the progressive spirits connected with the Academy at Belvidere have decided to meet this present pressing need. Let every Teacher in Pasquotank and her sister counties make arrangements to attend.

As the Summer season is now setting in, we will, of course, have some thunder storms. The time for rattling peals and vivid flashes, is now coming on. Danger from lightning may be guarded against by keeping away from conductors of electricity. If caught in a thunder storm, do not go near the trunk of a tree, nor near the tree at all if the branches be low. If you get a good wetting do not repine; perhaps it may be the means of saving your life. Wet clothes are good conductors, so good indeed that they may sometimes carry off a current of electricity, that would otherwise pass through your body, producing instant death. When lightning is about, keep out of the draughts of air. If the lightning be very fearful, shut all doors and windows, keep away from the fire place, and from metalic substances. Some recommend that in such extreme danger, it is well to lie in a bed. If that be done, the whole person should be covered up. In all cases avoid agitation.

Quite an enthusiastic Railroad meeting was held at Currituck Court House on Monday. Stirring addresses were made by Hon. J. W. ALBERTSON, of Hertford, Maj. H. A. GILLIAM, of Edenton, Col. W. F. MARTIN, Dr. P. JOHN, and Wm. H. SMITH, Esq., of Elizabeth City, and THOS. L. SANDERLIN, WM. B. SHAW, Esq., and WM. GORDEN, of Currituck. A liberal local subscription in money is promised, on the following terms: 25 per cent to be paid when the grading of the road reaches the Currituck line; 25 per cent when the grading and cross tieing is completed through to the Camden line; 25 per cent when the iron rail is laid, and the ballance when the cars begin to run over the road. The right spirit exists in old Currituck and her liberal people feel disposed to manifest it in the right way. In addition to cash subscriptions a large amount of land is pledged. Currituck won't be behind her sister counties along the line in helping to carry forward this grand and important enterprize.

LOCAL PORT-FOLIO.

A "horse note"—neigh! A demoralizer of the mails—postal cards. "Linked sweetness"—two pretty girls arm in arm. Still tight—money. Earlong—a donkey A volume that brings tears to the eyes—a volume of smoke. How to get in a scrape—go to the barbers.

MEDICINAL POISONS ON THE WANE.—The patriarchs took no mercury, no bismuth, iodine, no bromide of potassium, no strychoria, no quinine. Happy old gentlemen! they did not even know of the existence of these "specifics," and yet they lived until it seemed as if Death had forgotten them. Their medicines were herbs and roots. They have left this fact on record, and the world seems to be now taking note of it and returning to the first principles of medication. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the purest and most efficacious vegetable restorative of the day, is also the most popular. Thousands of persons who only a few years ago believed implicitly in all the poisons that figure in the pharmacoepia, now pronounce this palatable tonic and alternative an all-sufficient remedy for dsspepsea, nervous debility, constipation, billious complaints, headdache, intermittent fevers, and all the ordinary disturbances of the Stomach, the liver, the discharging organs and the brain. The time is not far distant when most of the powerful and venomons drugs now so recklessly administered by practicioners of the "heroic" school, in case that might be easily controled by milder treatment, will be utterly discarded by all philosophical physicians. As it is the thinking public who are generally ahead of the professionals, have already put the dangerous preperation aside and adopted Hostetter's Bitters in their stead as a safe and excellent household medecine, adapted to almost every ailment except the organic and deadly contagious diseases. For more than twenty years this famous restorative and preventive has been annually strengthening its hold upon the public confidence, and it now takes the lead of every advertised medicine manufactured in this country.

The Pear Tree.

Old Rupert sat, at the close of the day, in the shade of a beautiful pear tree, which stood before his house, while his grandson ate of the pears, and could not cease praising the sweet fruit.

Then said the grandfather,—

"I must tell you how this tree came here. One evening, more than fifty years ago, I stoood here, when there was empty space, but where now this pear tree stands, and complained to a rich neighbor of my poverty. 'Oh,' said I, 'how perfectly contented should I be if I could only possess one hundred dollars."

"The neighbor, who was a wise man, said—

"'That you can easily do, if you only set about it. See,' said he, 'there in the soil, where you stand, are more than a hundred dollars, if you can only get them.'

"At that time I was only a foolish young man, and so in the following night I dug in the ground on that spot, and to my great mortification found not a single dollar. In the morning the neighbors saw where I had been digging, and laughed heartily at my simplicity.

"'I see,' said he, 'that you did not understand me. I will send you a young pear tree; set that in the hole which you have dug, and after a year the dollars will begin to appear."

"I set out the young tree. It grew, and became what you now see it. The luscious fruit which it has borne year after year has brought me in far more than a hundred dollars, and it is yet a capital which yearly brings in a good interest."

"Open your eyes,
And open your mind,
Work with your hands,
And wishes you'll find."

From the German.

Carbolic Acid in Poultry Houses.

A writer in The London Field strongly recomends the use of carbolic acid for destroying insects in pigeon and poultry houses, asserting that it neither injures the birds nor tends to drive them from their nests. He uses it in the form of a solution of two ounces of common carbolic acid to three quarts of water, applying this once a week through the aid of a watering pot, after the house has been carefully swept out. Besides the lice aud acari that it destroys, it is also efficient in driving out fleas. For the purpose of expelling lice from the bodies of pigeons, the preferred method is said to be to mix one part of Calvart's liquid carbolic acid with thirty parts of water, first mixing the acid with a very little glyceryne, adding the water and shaking well before use. This is to be applied with a small brush to the roots of the feathers about the lower part of the belly and around the vent, where the greatest number of insects will always be found. This application leaves no stain, kills the vermin instantaneously wherever it touches them, and two or three applications, at intervals of a few days, are sufficient to make the foulest specimen thoroughly clean. The writer also uses Calvert's carbolic acid disenfecting powder, dusting it often over the bodies of even the young birds, without injury to them, and with equally good results.

Brood Sows.

(M. Rich): A young sow does not make a profitable breeder. The litters are generally small, and her supply is making growth. A good sow should be allowed to breed twice a year, which she will readily do, and the young pigs should be taken from her at four or five weeks, and be fed. A full-grown sow will produce and raise, without difficulty, 16 to 20 pigs or more in a year, until she is five years old. She will therefore pay for her keep as a breeder only. Hogs for pork, should never need to be wintered over, unless they are late pigs. In that case they should be kept growing all Winter, and may be killed for fresh pork in the Spring, or early in the Fall. No pigs that will not make 200 pounds at six months should be kept. Any well-bred pig of the Berkshire, Poland China, or several other breeds should do this and more if well kept. Then they are profitable. It is a mistake to suppose that pigs cannot be made to grow in Winter. They should be made to grow all the year round or the pork will cost more than it comes to.

Sulphur for Gapes.

When I was a boy, some 20 years ago, my mother used to raise 300 to 500 chickens each season, and 75 to 100 turkeys. Her manner of treatment was this: In those days cooking-stoves were not generally used, especially in the South, where Sambo and Sally were the help; so that we had big ovens and big pones of light bread. In said big ovens was also the light, pure, puffy buscuit baked. Well, each morning when the biscuit for breakfast were taken out and the oven yet hot, said Sally made up a pone of corn meal (unsifted) bread, with a heaping tablespoonful of pulverized sulphur to the quart, of meal, mixed with water and nothing else, and this was fed to the chickens and turkeys morning and evening, and I never knew of one dozen chickens lost with the gapes, as it is known that sulphur is death to parastical worms. The young turkeys had a pill of ground black pepper given each morning when they appeared prooping, until again lively. These pills are easily made by adding enough flour to cause adhesion.—[M. H. W., Lamar, Marshal Co., Miss.

Arresting Decay of Potatoes.—Prof Church of Cirencester, the eminent agricultural chemist, announces that sulphite of lime appears to exercise a remarkable influence in arresting the spread of decay in potatoes affected by the potato desiase. In one experiment the salt was dnsted over some tubers, partially decayed from this cause, as they were being stowed away. Some months afterward the potatoes were found to have suffered no further injury. A simillar trial with powdered lime proved to be much less effective.

Improvemelt of Rancid Butter.—According to Land and Water, rancid butter can be greatly improved in quality by washing it thoroughly in lime water, and then clearing out the lime water, by a good washing in cold spring water. The lime water is easily made, by allowing a lump of lime the size of the fist to slake in a bucket of water, stirring it well, and afterward allowing the lime to settle. It is said that a large business is now done in England by sundry persons, who purchase rancid butttr at low rates and sell it again at much higher prices, after manipulating it in the manner mentioned.

Temperature of the Air in Making Butter.—Recent experiments indicate that the best temperature of the air, as well as of the cream, for rapid churning of butter, is from 54°, to 59°, instead of the average of 66°, as generally taken. A cellar with temperature regulated by means of a thermometer, seems most suitable for the purpose, especially in Summer.

In longevity and healthfulness, it will compare favorably with any where: and in easy and cheap transportation of products to market, in pleasantness of climate, in the sociability of the people, in great fertility, and durability of soil, no section can equal it.

A railroad will soon be built to Weldon, putting this place in direct communication by Rail, with the whole United States. This, together with our great fishing. farming and manufacturing interests, and certain early completion of already projected works of improvement for putting in nearer, cheaper and easier communication with the Ocean, will render this one of the most important commercial, and manufacturing points on the Southern country.

Also one other tract in Pasquotank county, containing 116 acres, within one mile of the town with fine buildings, mostly eleared and in cultivation. Price $25 per acre, one half cash, balance in 12 months.

A fine farm and fishery in same county. The farm contains 400 acres of the finest land, lies immediately on Albemarle Sound where the water is 12 miles wide, and 18 to 20 feet deep, has got buildings, and fine neighborhood. The fishery is on the farm and goes with it. It has a new seine 2,500 yards long, and all the necessary boats, buildings, &c., (which cost over $15,000 two years ago.) The fishery alone, of a good season, will make from 5 to $10,000 profit to the owner. This property is offered at forced sale for the low price of $20,000, $7,000 cash, balance on easy times.

This farm has a splended two-story dwelling upon it, large barn, 40 by 60 feet, a large number of outhouses, by splended trees and shrubbery, is in a strong Union neighborhood, and altogether the most desirable place in the county. Fronting and looking over, as it does, two large sheets of navigable water, where steamers and sailing vessels are constantly passing, carrying freight and passengers to all parts of the country, its location and surroundings, are of the most fascinating and desirable character. There is a fishery on it ready for working a seine 2,500 yards long, and which commands a portion of both streams of water, and can be made immensely profitable. The price charged is low, and the purchase a very desirable one. The buildings consist of a good two-story dwelling and out-houses.

A desirable house and lot in the town of Elizabeth City on the corner of two principal streets, the principal one, and situated in the best business locality in the town. The lot contains about two acres of land, and the buildings consist of a fair dwelling three stories high, containing eight rooms, all in good order, another two story building with four rooms and pantries, dairy, smokehouses, stables, &c. The dwelling has a good cellar under it. There is room on the front lot to erect two good stores, and they would occupy the best stand in the town for merchandize.

A Farm of 200 acres within one mile of Elizabeth City, with good two story dwelling, large barn and stables, and all necessary outhouses, orchard of fine fruit trees, and a large number of ornamental trees and shrubbery around dwelling. BANKRUPTCY.

THE FIFTY PER CENT. CLAUSE.

As there seems to be a misunderstanding in regard to the effect of the provision of the Bankrupt Act, commonly called the 50 per cent. clause, we publish the following extracts from the Act:

The second clause of the thirty-third section as amended by the Act of July 27, 1868, provides "that no discharge shall be granted to a debtor whose assets shall not be equal to fifty per centum of the claims proved against his estate upon which he shall be liable as the principal debtor, unless the assent in writing of a majority in number and value of his creditors to whom he shall have become liable as principal debtor, and who shall have proved their claims, filed in case at or be fore the time of hearing of application for discharge:

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled—that the provision of the second clause of the thirty-third section of said act as amended by the first section of an act in amendment thereof, approved July 27th, 1868, shall not apply to those debts from which the bankrupt seeks a discharge which were contracted prior to January 1st, 1869.

The true meaning is not that a bankrupt must be able to pay fifty per cent. of his debts, before he can obtain a discharge, as many believe; but that his estate, in the hands of his assignee, at the time of the discharge, must be equal, to fifty per cent. of the [illegible] the debts.

1. That he owes as principal;
2. That have been proved against his estate in bankruptcy; and
3. That he has contracted since the 31st day of December, 1868.

Or, if a majority in number and value of those who have proved their debts, to whom the bankrupt is indebted as principal, on debts contracted subsequent to Dec. 31, 1868, consent in writing to the discharge, such bankrupt may be discharged forever from all his debts.

If a debtor, owing three thousand dollars as principal, twenty-five hundred of which indebtedness was contracted prior to January 1, 1869, and five hundred subsequent to it, files his petition in bankruptcy, and his creditors prove against him, and there are no assets in the hands of the assignee, the petitioner will be entitled to a discharge; but it will be a bar only to the debts contracted prior to January 1, 1869.—If no creditors prove, the discharge will be good against his debts, whether contracted before or after January 1, 1869.

The practical effect in bankruptcy cases generally is, that creditors fail to prove their debts, finding it ordinarily unprofitable. They have had, in a large majority of instances, heretofore the trouble and expense of making proofs without receiving any return. The 50 per cent. bugbear, therefore when viewed in the light of the law and common-sense, disappears.

EXEMPTIONS IN BANKRUPTCY.

The exemptions under the 14th section of the Bankrupt Act are as follows:

1. Household and Kitchen furniture to an amount not exceeding $500,00
2. Wearing apparel of Bankrupt and family.
3. Uniform, &c., if he has been a soldier in the United States Army.
4. Personal property of the value of $500, to be selected by the Bankrupt.
5. A Homestead and the dwelling and buildings used therewith, not exceeding in value the sum of $1000,00; or in lieu thereof, any lot in any city, town or village not exceeding in value the sum of $1000,000.
6. The reversionary interest in the Homestead lands.

In laying off the Exemptions in some Districts, the Assignees are ordered to accept and abide by, any assignment of a homestead which has been made by a Sheriff under the State laws; or which has been assigned, upon the application of a debtor in accordance with the laws of North Carolina. Where no such assignment of homestead has been made, the assignee will proceed to set apart such homestead, and make the other exemptions according to the rules of the bankrupt Court.

The report of such exemptions when made by the assignee can be excepted to by the bankrupt or by any creditor, within twenty days after the allotment of such exempt property.

EFFECT OF THE DISCHARGE IN BANKRUPTCY UPON JUDGMENT

It is the opinion of many of our best lawyers that the discharge in bankruptcy, discharges judgment debts existing against the bankrupt at the time of filing his petition, and that therefore the liens existing by virtue of such judgments, upon homesteads are wiped out, and cannot afterward be enforced. In fine, that the practical effect of the discharge, is to leave a man, whose homestead was encumbered by judgments, free from all his debts, of every nature, and the owner in fee simple of such homestead.

Again many lawyers, equally prominent in the profession, are of opinion that such will not be the effect of the discharge. That the homestead, will still be liable under the judgments and that when it determines under our State laws, the judgment creditor may enforce his lien and collect his debts.

To place this matter beyond doubt, the following rule has been adopted for the benefit of petitioners who are not willing to run any risk.

That the petitioning debtor may file his petition in the District Court, addressed to Hon. Geo. W. Brooks, asking that the judgment creditor, or creditors, show cause why the liens existing in pursuance of their judgments should not be adjusted by said court, and their present value ascertain and fixed, and the amount when so ascertained, to be made the true value of such lien or liens by the decree or judgment of said District Court, in bankruptcy.

The right to adjust such liens, is exercised in pursuance of Sec. 1. of the Bankrupt Act.

FILING PETITIONS AND SCHEDULES

☞ Petitions and Schedules must be in duplicate. Petitioner should sign each sheet, except oath to schedules. It is not necessary to file sheets of schedules that are not used. All papers in bankruptcy must be sworn to before a Register in Bankruptcy, U. S. Commissioner, or Clerk of the court.

The following deposit to secure costs is required at time of filing Petition. Register $50, Clerk $20, Messenger $5. Bankruptcy blanks can be had of M. B. Culpepper, Elizabeth City, prepared in sets for Two Dollars per set.

The original papers in all such cases should be sent to T. W. Costen, Register, Elizabeth City, N. C.

PROPRIETORS.

J. E. BENTLEY, M. D., Surgeon in Charge.
E. H. GREEN, M. D., Physician in Charge.

Having arranged with Dr. E. H. Kline Founder and Proprietor of the Philadelphia Bellevue Institute for the establishment of a permanent office at Goldsboro for the cure of CANCER, we take pleasure in informing the Afflicted that we have secured a large, commodious building, and thoroughly furnished it for the especial comfort of our many Patients coming to us from a distance.

Dr. J. E. Bently, the Surgeon in Charge, late Assistant Physician and Surgeon in the "Philadelphia Bellevue Institute," is a gentleman of high professionable attainments, a physician of experience, and well skilled in the treatment of Cancer by our methods.

Dr Green has for three years had charge of a Branch Office, to Dr. Kline's institute, at Charlotte, N. C., and his success in the cure of Cancer and other Chronic Diseases has been unprecedented.

Cancers will, as heretofore, be treated mainly with Dr. Kline's great Cancer Antidotes, wonderful in their effect and permanent in their results. The truth will warrant us in saying that more PERMANENT CURES have been made by them than by any and all other method combined.

We will take pleasure in sending an P. O. address of persons cured years ago, and who remain perfectly well up to this time, to any who will apply. Let all the afflicted write for a circular, or come and see us. Consultation free. Professional Fee within the reach of all.
